Oakesdale's Old Mill Days returns this weekend with a slate of events July 13-14. New for the town festival will be a car show and a horseshoe contest, both Saturday afternoon.

It all begins Friday night with bingo and pulled pork sandwiches from 6 to 9 p.m. at the McCoy Valley Museum, followed by a beer and wine garden open at the city shop from 7 to 10 p.m.

Saturday starts with the firemen's pancake breakfast from 7 to 9:30 a.m. at the fire station. At 8 a.m., the starting gun goes off for the five-mile fun run and adult and kids triathlon, with registration at 7 a.m.

Afterward, a cake walk and kids prize fish pond will begin at the city park followed by a kids and pet parade at 10:45 a.m. and main parade at 11 a.m.

Parade entries include the Shriner's Club, Whitman County Sheriff's Posse, FFA, Fit Farm, Wilbur-Ellis, political candidates and more. The grand marshal is Marilyn Kilpatrick, 91, born and raised in Oakesdale, a former school teacher and organist for the Oakesdale Presbyterian church for 60 years.

League plans two nights of candidate forums

Pullman League of Women voters plans candidate forums next Tuesday, July 17, at the library in Colfax, and Wednesday, July 18, at the Neill Library in Pullman. The Colfax session will be from 7 to 9 p.m. and the Pullman session from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

At Colfax, candidates for three county offices and two candidates of five candidates for 5th District representative are scheduled to appear.

U.S. Representative candidates Democrat Lisa Brown and Trump Populist Party member Dave Saulito have confirmed they will participate. Republican incumbent Cathy McMorris Rodgers reported she will be unavailable, and two other candidates on the primary ballot have not responded to the league's invitation.

Candidates for three county races are incumbent county Commissioner Michael Largent of Colfax and challenger John Mark Mahnky of Pullman, auditor candidates Sandy Jamison of Garfield and Eric Fejeran of Pullman, and incumbent treasurer Mark Clinton and challenger Christina Nelson of Endicott.

The July 18 session in Pullman will include the three candidates for district court judge and the candidates for state representative.

The three candidates for judge are John Hart, Dan LeBeau and Rob Rembert, all of Pullman.

Candidates for the legislature are Republican incumbent Mary Dye of

Bagott to step down as Palouse Fire Chief

BY GARTH MEYER
Gazette Reporter

The City of Palouse/Fire District Four will have a new fire chief some time after harvest. Chief Mike Bagott plans to return to the assistant chief position after 15 years in the top job. Scott Beeson will take over as chief.

Beeson, a department member since 2003, has served as assistant chief for the past year after the retirement of Marc Arrasmith.

"I'm self-demoting back to assistant chief," said Bagott. "When it's time, you know it's time. I kind of felt like I've done what I can in the leadership role."

The changeover, to be formally voted on and ratified by the 19-member department, is expected to take place in September.

Both Bagott and Beeson are employed with Palouse Grain Growers, thus the reason to wait until after harvest.

The planned change was announced June 18 at the last fire board meeting.

Bagott has presided over an era of the department that included building a new station in 2005, replacing almost the entire fleet of fire trucks to increase the department's ability to carry and pump water.

New air packs were acquired in Bagott's first year as chief and another upgrade in air packs is scheduled soon.

"I've enjoyed being chief and didn't feel the need to be chief in perpetuity," said Bagott. "I think Scott will do a great job taking over."

Palouse Fire Department's two captains are Marv Pillars and Carl Saunders.

Japan ratifies CPTPP, wheat organizations call for action

BY GARTH MEYER
Gazette Reporter

Japan on July 6, became the second country to ratify the 11-nation CPTPP agreement, leading U.S. Wheat Associates and the National Association of Wheatgrowers to call for the U.S. to join the pact or start bilateral negotiations with Japan — to allay the impact on America's No. two wheat export market.

The CPTPP (Comprehensive and Progressive Trans-Pacific Partnership) came out of the original Trans-Pacific Partnership which was negotiated by the George W. Bush and Barack Obama administrations. The controversial pact, for which support waned in the U.S. at the end of the Obama years, was designed as a counter to China's growing economic influence.

The Trump administration pulled the U.S. out of the TPP soon after he became president. The remaining countries then reconvened and agreed to the CPTPP.

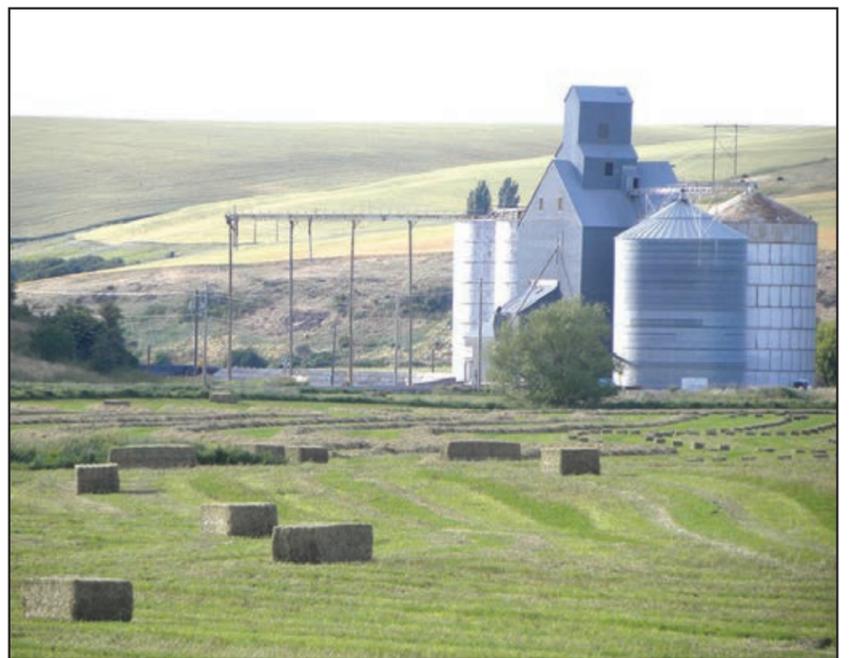

Once implemented, the deal incrementally discounts the effective import tariffs that Japanese flour millers pay for imported Australian and Canadian milling wheat from about $150 to about $85 per metric ton (MT). Imported U.S. wheat effective tariffs would remain at about $150 per MT.

With Japan and Mexico ratifying the CPTPP so far, it could take effect in early 2019, once six of the 11 countries that signed the agreement have ratified it. Canada and Australia, which are major competitors to the United States in the Japanese wheat market, are also parties to the agreement.

Estimates by the Japanese milling industry indicate that, once the CPTPP is in effect, they will start looking at alternatives to U.S. wheat and cut average total imports of western white, dark northern spring and hard red winter wheat by more than half from about 3.1 million metric tons per year to 1.35 million metric tons per year or less.

U.S. Wheat Associates estimates that if the new tariff schedule is fully implemented, the U.S. grain trade could drop by $500 million, with most of that transferring to Australia and Canadian farmers.

U.S. Wheat Associates is a marketing organization funded by 17 state wheat commissions and the USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service. The National Association of Wheatgrowers represents farmers in Washington, D.C., working with 20 state wheat grower organizations.

Drug suspects arrested at Tekoa, Oakesdale

Packaged methamphetamine and heroin valued at more than $2,000 was found in an early Saturday morning search of a residence in Tekoa, according to a report from Sheriff Brett Myers.

Sheriff Myers reported they had received information from Coeur d'Alene Tribal Police earlier Saturday about possible drug trafficking at a location in Tekoa. Officers obtained a warrant to search an apartment at the Wheatland Arms in the 300 block of Alder Street in Tekoa.

The probable cause arrest report said other residents in the building told deputies they believed drug sales were being made in the apartment because of the number of people coming and going.

The report alleged packets of the drugs and more than $2,300 in cash were located in a lock box which was found in the suspect's closet during the warrant search. The report alleged the drug evidence weighed out at 14 grams of methamphetamine and 25 grams of heroin.

Krista Condon, 25, was booked into jail at 7:25 a.m. on probable felony charges of possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver. Her eight-month-old child, who was in the apartment, was taken into protective custody and later placed in the care of her parents in Tensed, Idaho.

The arrest report said surveillance cameras which apparently had been placed in the windows of the apartment and linked to a computer were also seized during the search along with the computer.

Condon Monday was formally charged by the prosecutor's office with possession of methamphetamine and heroin, both with intent to deliver. Her bail for pre-trial release was set at $50,000.

She told the court she would reside at Tensed in the event she posts bail.

In a separate investigation, deputies Friday morning conducted a search of a residence in the 500 block of McCoy Street in Oakesdale where they allegedly located packaged methamphetamine and heroin.

Cody Varner, 21, who lives at the residence, and Tyler Chapman, 24, St. John, were subsequently booked into the county jail here on probable drug charges.

Deputies went to the Oakesdale residence after a suspect in a traffic stop said he believed drugs were being sold out of the Oakesdale residence.

According to the report, Varner allowed deputies to search the residence.

Chapman, who was reported to be visiting the Varner residence, allowed deputies to search his pack where drug evidence which led to his arrest was allegedly discovered.

Pine City zone change

Whitman County commissioners July 2 approved a zone change for a two-acre parcel owned by Inland Empire Milling outside Pine City. The change converts the parcel from agricultural zoning to limited heavy industrial. Under the change, the owners will not be required to update conditional use permits each time they make a change to the property, such as adding a scale.

Two drug arrests made in Colfax

Two Colfax residents were booked into jail early June 30 on probable drug possession charges after warrant searches were executed at separate residences.

According to arrest reports by Colfax Officer Cory Alcantar, he and deputies arrested James A. Taylor, 30, after searching his residence in the 800 block of N. Park Street. Drug items were allegedly found in a gray lock box located in the suspect's basement room at the residence. Tests of residue indicated presence of methamphetamine and heroin, the report said.

Deanna Koker, 35, was arrested after a warrant search was conducted of a 2005 Ford motorhome in the 500 block of N. Mill Street. The arrest report said two scales, three pipes and a kit for heroin use, which was found in a glasses case, were discovered during the search.

Both suspects were released on their own recognition. Formal charges had not been filed as of July 5.

Senior picnic draws to Rosalia

The Council on Aging hosted its Whitman County Seniors' Picnic Tuesday in Rosalia. Paige Collins, COA executive director, said about 70 people attended despite "wild winds whipping through the park." Above: Old Time Fiddlers play on while music sheets blow in the wind. Left: Deborah Rosebrook, Sue Wilcomb, Charlotte and Don Snekvik dish up picnic fare. All except Snekvik are COA employees.

JUNE RAINS POST .33 GAIN

Precipitation for June totaled 1.69 inches which was .33 over the 1.36 normal for the month. The month included the .83 reading June 11 after a weekend of heavy rain.

The June gain followed a .25 of an inch gain for May. Other big rainfall days for June included .20 on June 4 and .40 on June 22.

FIRE BAN AT COUNTY PARKS

County Parks Superintendent Dave Mahan reported fire restrictions were posed July 5 for all county parks and trails. Campfires and smoking along trails are now prohibited at Kamiak Butte, Klemgard and Wawawai Parks and on the Bill Chipman Trail. Cooking with charcoal briquettes or gas grills is still allowed. Park visitors are required to keep a bucket filled with water and a shovel on hand while cooking.

AXE SAID USED IN ASSAULT

A charge of second-degree assault was filed July 3 in superior court against William S. Tyler, Jr., 53, LaCrosse. He was booked into jail Saturday morning after deputies responded to a report of an alleged assault with an axe in LaCrosse.

According to the report by Deputy Brian Keller, Tyler was alleged to have used the butt of an axe to hit the elbow of Jeffrey Marshall at Marshall's residence.

The report said the two men had an argument the night before, and early the next morning Tyler was seen walking to Marshall's house with the axe.

Marshall told deputies he saw Tyler holding the axe before he went outside, and told them he took a knife outside with him. He said they had an argument the night before, and Tyler left. Tyler was allowed release on his own recognizance after a first appearance in court. He was ordered to have no contact with the alleged victim and not go on his property as a condition of pre-trial release.

COLFAX FIRE FOLLOWUP REPORT

In his report to the city council July 2, Colfax Public Works Director Matt Hammer said the cause of the June 20 fire that damaged a building at the waste water treatment plant remains undetermined. He reported a fire investigator from the insurance company made an inspection of the scene and was unable to determine a cause. That conclusion matched the one reached by Pullman Fire Investigator Tony Nuttman, who was called to the scene to investigate after the fire. Nuttman said his investigation pointed to two possible causes, but he was unable to determine which of the two might have started the blaze, and that's why the cause of the fire had to be listed as undetermined.

Hammer Monday noted the most likely cause of the fire was a gas-fired water heater which was located in the building. He said an insurance adjuster has been scheduled to be at the scene this week to determine the extent of damages.

The fire did extensive damage to the interior of the building. Fire crews were able to get the fire under control in within about 20 minutes of when the fire was reported.

CLARKSTON DRIVER HURT

Milissa Long-Kennsington, 47, Clarkston, was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital in Lewiston July 2 after the pickup truck she was driving went off Highway 195 near Colton. According to the report from the Washington State Patrol district office, she was driving a 2005 Toyota Tacoma southbound at 6:41 p.m. when it went off the roadway and rolled near mile marker 11.

The report said alcohol was believed to have been involved in the accident.

SEL, Schweitzers give $3 million to LCSC project

Pullman's Schweitzer Engineering Laboratories (SEL), along with company founder and President Ed Schweitzer and wife, Beatriz, donated $3 million to the new career and technical education center at Lewis-Clark State College (LCSC). It is the largest cash donation in school history.

On Monday, SEL announced it will give $2 million toward the new CTE building, with the Schweitzers contributing another $1 million.

"I cannot think of a better example of cooperation between industry and higher education than SEL and LCSC joining to make a better future for our students. This is a major step that will result in world-class programs for the region," said former LCSC President Fernandez, who retired in June and who first approached the Schweitzers about donating.

Schweitzer commended the field of technical and industrial education for its ability to improve an individual's life and better society as a whole.

"First and foremost, we have to realize that schools - whether it be high schools, college or universities - these are the places that teach kids the stuff that doesn't rust. That's their chance to learn the fundamentals," Schweitzer said.

"I cant underscore enough how important it is for people to work with their hands and their minds," he added.

Schweitzer said he first considered donating after attending an LCSC graduation ceremony a couple years ago, noting his appreciation for the number of first-generation college graduates he met there.

"I was just so impressed with seeing so many wonderful young people become nurses, becoming diesel mechanics, becoming welders and many, many other careers," Ed explained. "It seems like LCSC is doing a really good job of educating young people and teaching the very skills we need in society, and it's all happening right here at home."

According to LCSC, construction of the building is expected to begin during the 2018-2019 school year, following an approval by the Idaho State Board of Education and the state's Permanent Building Fund Advisory Council, and will finish up in time for the 2020 fall semester.

The donation will help fund LCSC's 75,000 square-foot facility containing seven of the school's technical and industrial division programs, along with a variety of auto mechanic technology.

The Idaho Legislature agreed to match LCSC's contributions to the $20 million project dollar-for-dollar in 2017. Since then, the school has been working to raise their $10 million share. It has now raised $3.19 million

SEL and LCSC plan to also collaborate in a number of other non-monetary ways, such as designing curriculum for career and technical programs and holding classes taught by SEL employees.

Fire in Snake River canyon covers 1,300 acres

Fire crews from this area responded July 4 to a range fire which started in the Nisqually John Canyon along the Snake River about 12 miles downstream from Clarkston.

The fire, which is believed to have been possibly caused by fireworks, ignited in a steep part of the canyon which could not be reached by crews from Colton District 14 when they responded to the scene.

Airplanes and a helicopter were used on the fire and the Whitman County Sheriff's marine patrol was used on the river to clear a zone for the aircraft to scoop up water.

The fire was contained as of Saturday morning and remaining fire crews from the state mobilization headed home. Estimated area of the burn in the canyon was approximately 1300 acres. Total force at the peak of mobilization was approximately 130 firefighters.

Possible causes of the fire could have been fireworks or target shooting.

Pullman Regional Hospital Foundation awards $8,000

The Pullman Regional Hospital Foundation has awarded scholarships to, Bonnie Brown, Caitlin Carl, Elizabeth Schilling, Eunka Tobia and Nicole Weiss following the 2018 spring semester. Brown, Carl and Schilling each received a $1,000 scholarship to pursue a bachelor of science in nursing degree. WSU College of Pharmacy student Eunka Tobia is the 2018 fall semester recipient of the Bill Gaskins Pharmacy Scholarship. The $2,500 scholarship is awarded to eligible applicants seeking to practice pharmacy in a rural environment or provide services to underserved populations.

Weiss received the hospital staff education scholarship which provides $2,500 to employees seeking to improve their skills and advance their education and healthcare career.

Patriots take second at tournament in Whitefish

Palouse Patriots Friday will start a three-day run at the Lewiston American Legion tournament which is the last event on their season schedule prior to the district playoffs in Spokane the following week.

The Pats will commute down to Lewiston after rolling out a 3-2 record and the Legion tournament in Whitefish, Mont. They placed second after losing to the Kalispell Lakers in the title game.

The Lakers, who defeated the Patriots in the final Summer Series game at McDonald Park in Colfax two weeks ago, now hold a 3-0 series edge over the local club.

The Patriots defeated Montana teams from Butte and Glacier on the first day of the tournament last Thursday, bowed to Kalispell on Friday, defeated Lethbridge on Saturday and then collided with Kalispell Sunday in the tourney's title game which matched the teams with the best records after the first four rounds.

In the title game, Kalispell put Wes Palmer back on the mound. Palmer, who has good size and puts a lot of speed on the ball, held the Patriots to two hits when the Montana team prevailed at Colfax.

The Patriots Sunday tagged Palmer for eight hits, but Kalispell rolled up 11 hits. Another factor was six errors booked by the locals in the title round.

The two teams locked up at 2-2 after the first inning, but the Lakers broke out for four runs in the third frame, and three more in the last two innings for a 10-2 title win in a game which closed down after five innings.

Reece Chadwick pitched the first three innings when the Lakers scored six runs, all of them unearned. Connor Parrish finished for the Patriots.

Zane Wilson tagged a two-run single in the first inning, and Kyle Appel and Chase Hayton each had two of the eight Patriots hits.

The Patriots had their best round with the Lakers on Friday when they took a 3-2 lead into the top of the fifth inning before Kalispell took control with four runs in the bottom of the inning. Final score was 6-3 for the Lakers.

The Patriots out-hit Kalispell 9-5 in the Friday round.

Parked Huber pitched six innings in the Friday game, allowed four hits but walked six Lakers. Konnor Kinkade finished on the mound.

Wilson hit two RBIs with a double and single, and Chase Hayton rapped three singles.

Saturday the Patriots rolled out a 4-1 win over the Lethbridge Elks with an eight-hit attack. Cal Gregory allowed the Canadian club just three hits over the first six innings. He walked just one batter. Connor Parrish finished the win.

Konner Kinkade topped the eight-hit attack with a double and a single.

The Patriots started at Whitefish last Thursday with a 10-6 win over Butte and a 10-5 win over the Glacier Twins.

Chadwick, Jackson Horner and Appel pitched the win over Butte. Chadwick held Butte to just three hits into the fourth inning.

The Pats scored two in the first inning and five in the second to take control.

Gregory and Payton Kallaher each had two hits.

Kinkade booked a season footnote by getting hit by a pitch in his last two trips to the plate.

Against the Twins, the Patriots scored five runs in the first inning on the way to a 10-5 win.

Kallaher pitched into the fifth inning, fanned five and walked three while giving up five hits.

Huber doubled in three runs in the first inning and added a single to top the eight-hit Patriot offense.

The Patriots are now 11-16 overall going into the tournament at Lewiston.

First 'Try'athlon raises $5,000 plus

BY WILL DEMARCO
Gazette Reporter

Organizers of the first annual "Try"athlon in St. John Monday, June 23, said the event had a strong initial showing and will be returning in 2019.

According to event organizer Amy Swannack, the "Try"athlon featured the unlikely combination of trap shooting, golf and horseshoes. Those in attendance could also win prizes, enter raffles, grab a Philly cheesesteak or relax at the beer garden.

The event was put on by the Eagles/Wildcats

Booster Club, which raised more than $5,000 that afternoon for the athletic fund.

Swannack said her highlight of the day was when the top overall male "Try"athlon finisher put his first-place prize up for auction, so that the money could go back to the Booster Club.

According to Swannack, many of the raffle winners followed the man's lead and had their prizes sold to benefit the club. A total of five people purchased a buck knife in sequence for $1,250.

Berquist to compete in high school nationals

Caleb Berquist from LaCrosse, a senior at Colfax High School, has earned a position on the Washington State National High School rodeo team which will compete at Rock Springs, Wyo., in the 70th edition of the National High School finals rodeo July 15-21. He will compete in tie down and team roping. Berquist was state reserve all-around winner and state team roping champion as header. He is seen here at work at left heading a calf with Levi Delamarler of Longview throwing as heeler. The national rodeo will feature 1,650 contestants from 43 states, five Canadian provinces and from Australia and Mexico.

Garfield/Palouse senior to compete in bull riding at high school nationals

Straughan will play in New Zealand

BY WILL DEMARCO
Gazette Reporter

Garfield/Palouse High School student Jordan Paddock has qualified for Washington's National High School rodeo team and will soon compete in bull riding at the national high school finals July 15-21 in Rock Springs Wyo. Paddock will be among nearly 1,700 contestants from 43 states and four different countries to compete for more than $350,000 in college scholarships. He finished fourth for bull riders in Washington this year in Paddock's draw to bull riding began at a young age when he went with his family to the Palouse Empire rodeo.

"I really like things that test your mental and physical strength," Paddock explained. "I've always wanted to do something that not many people can do."

Paddock finally got the go-ahead from his parents to ride a bull in eighth grade.

"I begged my mom every night for three months," Paddock said. "Finally, she said 'You gotta understand the danger this sport holds, but I'm here for whatever support you need.'"

Paddock said he's been training just about every weekend since then by practicing on mechanical "bucking barrels" around Colfax or traveling to Royal City to ride the real thing.

Paddock had his first shot at the nationals last year, but was bucked early in both rides. This year could be redemption.

"It would mean the world to me to win it all. You'd probably see me bawling my eyes out on stage," he laughed.

Paddock said he plans to land a spot on a rodeo team in college and one day go pro.

"I'll have my degree to fall back on, but I'm hoping to make this into a career," Paddock said.

At left, Jordan Paddock takes a spin at the state finals in Kennewick May 27.

Athletes in Action, a worldwide Christian organization, has selected Colton graduate Jake Straughan to travel this summer to play basketball against international teams and do missionary work. He will embark on a trip to New Zealand July 22 - Aug. 11. Straughan's trip is estimated to cost $5,000, and he is looking for help with the costs. Those who would like to help fund Straughan's basketball missionary trip may do so at the link below.

Straughan led Colton to the state 1B basketball championship in 2014, then played at University of Idaho, where he graduated in three years with a degree in psychology. He then transferred to Fresno Pacific University, where he is playing his last two years of college eligibility and pursuing a master's degree.

Endicott hosts 4-gun shoot on July 4

Endicott Gun Club paid out $180 to the top three winners at its first four-gun shoot July 4. The 10 participants shot various targets with shotguns, deer rifles, .22 rifles and pistols.

The shooters, who ranged from 15 to 79 years old, competed to earn as many of the possible 80 points laid out in the courses. The first event was with shotguns and the marksmen had a chance at 10 birds of singles and 10 birds of doubles.

Then they moved to deer rifles to shoot 10 targets placed 100 to 300 yards out. The 10 targets for .22 rifles were 25 to 65 yards out. In both rifle events, the shooter had two shots per target, with a first round hit worth two points and a second round hit worth one. Shooters fired from different positions: prone, kneeling and standing.

In the pistol event each had 25 shots in which to hit 20 targets, including a star pattern which began rotating after the first shot hit.

Total available points was 80.

Top shooter was Connor Pelissier who collected 75 points. Coming in second was his father, Jim Pelissier, who was only three points behind. The only woman entrant, Jessica Pelissier, took third with 69 points. Eric Johnson was fourth with 63. There was a tie for fifth and only one point difference between seventh, eighth and ninth.

The gun club intends to host a repeat of the event next year. Entrants pay to play with winnings divided out from those fees. If next year's event garners more participants, more rankings would be paid out.

These reports are from the previous four issues of the Daily Bulletin in Colfax. They are reprinted here for the benefit of Gazette readers who reside outside of Colfax. Some accounts have been updated.

HARVESTERS ASKED TO AVOID CEDAR

Colfax Public Works Director Matt Hammer Tuesday asked harvest crews to avoid the North Flat construction zone which includes Cedar and Oak streets. He noted neither the work zone nor the single-lane detour can accommodate large combines and trucks.

A detour on the project routes traffic to Riverside Lane, which is essentially a one-way street.

Hammer noted, as of Tuesday, one lane of Cedar Street between Seventh and Eighth streets on the south end of the project has been opened to traffic.

Work now underway includes installation of new eight-inch sewer mains on both streets. The new lines will replace a sewer main which was built of short concrete pipe segments. Failure of concrete at the pipe joints over the years has led to infiltration problems with the system.

Crews for contractor Motley & Motley are excavating the old line while installing the new one.

WRECK FOUND ABANDONED

Washington State Patrol Trooper Bruce Blood early Saturday morning responded to the scene of an accident on Highway 195 south of Pullman. A 1997 Mitsubishi was found wrecked near mile mark 17, three miles south of Pullman. The car was abandoned.

The registered owner of the car resides at Lapwai, Idaho, and Blood learned the owner was out of town at the time of the accident. He also contacted a granddaughter of the owner, but she had no knowledge of who might have been driving the car. She was later interviewed by a member of the Lewiston Police Department.

The accident investigation determined the Mitsubishi was headed southbound on 195 at about 4:34 a.m. when it drifted onto the gravel shoulder, slid sideways and rolled. It came to a halt on its wheels.

MAN ARRESTED AT EELLS PARK

Reggie Dean Leinweber, 68, listed as homeless, was booked in the jail here Monday night at 8 p.m. after being arrested by Colfax Officer Jaelene Leeson at Eells Park in Colfax. Leinweber was booked into jail on a probable charge of third degree assault of an officer. Leeson said she responded to a report of Leinweber yelling at children and drinking in the park. Residents who reside next to the park said he had been around there for a few days, but they began to consider him a threat Monday when he started drinking and yelling at youngsters.

Leeson said she stopped at the park once and told him he couldn't drink in the park. The report said he had a bottle of clear liquid and an empty bottle of Olde English Malt.

Officer Leeson said after getting more complaints she returned to the park and determined he had been drinking. Her report said Leinweber blew at her twice and particles of spit landed on her face.

Leinweber was believed to have come here from the Lewiston-Clarkston Valley.

BODY RECOVERED AT CENTRAL FERRY

Whitman County Marine Patrol and the Whitman County coroner were called out Saturday afternoon to assist with the recovery of a male body found near the Central Ferry Bridge on Highway 127. The body was identified as Charlie Wilkie of Pomeroy.

According to the Garfield County Sheriff's office, Mr. Wilkie had been reported missing last Monday, July 2. His truck had been located on the Garfield County side of the river near the Central Ferry Bridge.

His body was turned over to the Garfield County coroner, and all next of kin have been notified, according to a report from the Grant County Sheriff.

Wilkie, 39, was last seen July 1 at approximately 8 p.m. in Walla Walla and his truck was found the next morning at Central Ferry. He was reported missing at 6:55 a.m. July 2, and a missing person alert was subsequently sent out by the Garfield County Sheriff's Office.

OFFICER LEESON RETURNS TO DUTY

Officer Jaelene Leeson returned to duty with the Colfax Police Department Sunday after being on maternity leave for six months. Her return bumps the roster of Colfax police to four people, still one officer short of full staffing for the department.

The department roster had dropped to the chief and two officers after the departure of Matt Malakowsky, who joined the Clarkston Police Department last month.

Larson visited the council session to report on what direction the state could be taking to land funds for redoing the intersection.

Larson reported a lone bid for a rehabilita-

Mart and gas station is now located.

One possible site suggested for relocation could be the area where Highway 26 is presently located, because that segment of road will not be needed in the new intersection plan which calls for just one bridge across the North Fork of the Palouse River.

DOT was unsuccessful in its application to obtain funds for a Colfax project from the TIGER grant program. BUILD stands for Better Using Investments to Leverage Development.

Larson noted the BUILD program has $1.5 million in its funding compared to $.5 million in funding which was available for TIGER grants.

HURT IN PORCH FALL

Colfax Chief Rick McNannay late Saturday responded to a report of a woman who had been injured after she fell off a porch. The 20-year-old, who appeared to have been drinking, sustained injuries to her face and head after toppling off the porch.

She was transported by ambulance to Whitman Community Hospital. Chief McNannay said the woman became belligerent while being treated at the hospital, and he remained there for security duty until the early morning hours.

STATE UPDATE ON N. END

Proposals for a roundabout or a T intersection were projected on the wall during the July 2 city council session for a presentation on the future of the highways 26 and 195 intersection at the north end of Colfax.

tion project on the two bridges at the north end of town was rejected last year because it was considered too high by the state.

Larson added the repair work done on the bridges two years ago appears to be holding up better than expected.

Cost of building one new bridge has been estimated in the $7 to $8 million range vs. the cost of the now-stalled rehab project, which could be about $2 million, he noted.

Larson said statistics for roundabout intersections show they provide a 37 percent drop in accidents and 75 percent reduction in injury accidents. The initial cost of roundabouts is higher, but they can be operated at lower cost.

Larson did note the traffic loads for highways 26 and 195 now are below what is normally considered a threshold for a roundabout installation.

The proposal for a T intersection included a right turn lane for east-bound motorists who want to turn south off 26 onto 195 to go southbound on Main Street.

Eric Busch, proprietor of Busch Distributors said he would like to be part of the conversation of "what it does to us." Both chart projections Monday included land where the Busch Sunset

'ROSE' PROJECT COULD COMPETE WITH COLFAX

The proposed giant "Rose" processing center project, believed to be an Amazon fulfillment center, figures to compete with Colfax in grant applications for highway projects, Larry Larson, assistant regional administrator of development for the state Department of Transportation, told the city council Monday night. Larson said Spokane County officials plan to apply for a BUILD grant to improve the road system for the project, which is projected to have between 2,200 and 2,900 employees commuting to work in the four-story building which is expected to be constructed on an 80-acre site southwest of Spokane International Airport. The center is designed with approximately 1,800 parking spaces and would have employees working shifts around the clock.

Spokane County is expected to seek a grant from the BUILD program which has replaced the federal Transportation TIGER funding program. The state this year. If a Colfax project is funded, design work would start next January and a call for construction bids would be made in the spring of 2020, Larson said.

DRIVER LEAVES ACCIDENT SCENE

A damaged 1996 BMW 328 convertible was found at mile 33 on Wawawai River Road near Wilma at 7:15 a.m. July 4, but the driver was not at the scene. A report from Sheriff Brett Myers said the driver, Jeremy McKinney, Clarkston, was located July 5. He said they believe he suffered only minor injuries in the one-car accident.

A witness to the accident, which was reported at 7:15 a.m. July 4, said he observed the driver of the car running away from the scene just before a law officer arrived. Officers from the Asotin County Sheriff's Office, Clarkston Police Department and state Fish & Game assisted in trying to locate McKinney.

It is believed the BMW was traveling at a high rate of speed when McKinney lost control of the vehicle, according to Myers.

A question of the mainstream

The nomination of Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court Monday night should mark a reckoning for the Democratic Party.

With now three consecutive respected choices in the most major of personnel decisions, President Trump has solidified a claim to the mainstream voter, in a time which the Democrats are defined by niche issues.

Trump's picks of Mike Pence, Neil Gorsuch and now Kavanaugh, for millions of people, backs the reason they voted for him. For millions of others, it makes it that much harder to undo him in 2020.

It all points to the question of what Democrats are willing to lose an election over.

Trump now holds a 43 percent approval rating even after all of the wild and unprecedented things he's done in office. It's a figure that seems likely to hold too as the top concerns of those who might have voted for him in 2016, but didn't, continue to lessen.

After Trump's meeting with Kim Jong Un, worry about the U.S. leader's access to nuclear weapons and his proclivity to provoke others who have them is down by half, or more. The "Access Hollywood" tape and subsequent accusations are still real but with Gorsuch and Kavanaugh, the era started by Bill Clinton has now cemented; plenty of voters are willing to trade personal character for a strong economy or their kind of Supreme Court picks. (A third concern about whether Trump can be serious about climate change remains in place. A fourth, whether he'll be willing to do anything about too-easy-access to guns also still holds, although he seemed interested in the idea for awhile after Parkland). Lastly, whether Trump is a racist or nativist, the top feature of that – the travel ban – just cleared the Supreme Court. So what now does the average voter think of it?

Overall, a year and a half into Trump's presidency, half of the top-five concerns about him have diminished, his approval is in the normal realm for presidents and he is about to see his second Supreme Court pick confirmed.

It's time for Democrats to get serious about this.

This is the state of things, when their party, more than any time in recent history, is defined by LGBTQ and other minority causes. It seems to be what Democrats do now, which brings the fundamental question: is it all worth losing in 2020 over?

Barack Obama was officially against gay marriage until 2013 – when he "evolved" just before it became law. It's been documented that he was privately for it the whole time, but was it worth losing in 2008? Who would say it was? Even the most fervent liberal would have to agree it wasn't.

This is what the Democrats face now. It might be time to set aside the who's-being-discriminated-against and free-healthcare-for-all discussion for broader matters. Especially since the economy remains strong – mainly the work of Obama, who only ever got to work on it because he was smart enough to shelve a few liberal beliefs to keep himself in the mainstream.

The mainstream matters, it's where elections are won. And as much as Trump does the unusual, he keeps one foot always in it. The Democrats need to step off the shore and get back in.

Doublespeak Double-Cross

Don't you just love doublespeak, which "deliberately obscures, disguises, distorts or reverses the meaning of words," according to the dictionary? It's the distorted language of grievance that allows society's oppressors to wallow absurdly in their contrived victimhood.

One of my favorites is a phrase used against anybody who dares oppose the nation's plutocrats, these obese cats who routinely use a small part of their ill-gotten gains to buy candidates – oh, I'm sorry, I mean "make campaign contributions to elect officials who will return the favors by twisting the laws to protect the prosperous from prosecution for thievery."

What happens when anybody utters even a mild criticism? They all shriek "CLASS WARFARE" at the top of their lungs. That distortion is effective in a nation that prides itself on its alleged economic opportunity, even though just a cursory look will reveal that is actually just a myth; what we really have is gross financial inequality, with most of the country's abundance held in the vaults of those at the tippy-top of the heap. In reality, they wage class warfare against everyone else.

That's right up there with "playing the race card," the favorite of those who play the race card constantly, holding on to that grand American tradition of white bigotry against people of color. That doesn't stop white bigots from feeling set upon by every effort, no matter how puny, to counter the nation's built-in prejudice. Affirmative action becomes "reverse discrimination," even though it has had limited success in correcting the severe disparities that still exist.

But don't worry, white supremacists, help is on the way: Anthony Kennedy, who spent 30 years as a Supreme Court associate justice, is retiring. Kennedy has been an independent-minded conservative who had reluctantly supported such concepts as affirmative action and gay rights. Without a doubt, President Donald Trump's nominee to replace him will be someone far to the right. Really far to the right. Goodbye, civil rights; goodbye, sexual freedom.

At top of the chutzpah hit parade is the complaint by Trump supporters that opponents are forgetting their manners, suddenly lacking in civility. Trump supporters complaining about incivility? Their leader invented that game. His combination of lying, name-calling, bigotry and misogyny has turned every debate about issues into an attack not just on civility, but on civilization.

All this hypocrisy has been inspired by the recent experience of administration luminaries who have been trying to eat out. The most famous incident involves Sarah Huckabee Sanders, the Trump press secretary. By now we all are well aware that the owner and staff of a Lexington, Virginia, restaurant were so offended by her role in the Trump administration that they asked her to leave, which set off outrage in Trumpsters everywhere.

I have a simple solution: Set up separate dining rooms for Trump supporters and their adversaries. In Mexican restaurants, to avoid food fights, put up a wall. Problem solved. (It will be funded by Mexico, of course.)

What is nowhere near being solved is the constant doublespeak, the language of hypocrisy. Over time, the incessant use of such semantic dishonesty has dissolved the trust necessary to make a democracy function. Maybe that's why ours is not functioning so well anymore.

Roe Is A Travesty

The prospect of overturning Roe v. Wade will be at the foreground of the battle over Justice Anthony Kennedy's replacement, and it should be.

Roe is judicially wrought social legislation pretending to the status of constitutional law. It is more adventurous than Miranda and Griswold, other watchwords of judicial activism from its era. It is as much a highhanded attempt to impose a settlement on a hotly contested political question as the abhorrent Dred Scott decision denying the rights of blacks. It is, in short, a travesty that a constitutionalist Supreme Court should excise from its body of work with all due haste.

Roe has been commonly misunderstood since it was handed down in 1973, in part because its supporters have been so determined to obscure its radicalism. It is commonly thought that Roe only prohibits restrictions on abortion in the first trimester, when it effectively forbids them at any time, imposing a pro-abortion regime as sweeping as anywhere in the advanced world.

Roe struck down 50 state laws and has made it all but impossible to regulate abortion, except in the narrowest circumstances. More to the point, the argument that its particular set of policy preferences is mandated by the Constitution is flatly preposterous.

Over the years, the decision's laughable constitutional inadequacy has been widely recognized. Shortly after it came down, Harvard Law School professor John Hart Ely, a supporter of legalized abortion, wrote that "Roe is bad because it is bad constitutional law, or rather because it is not constitutional law and gives almost no sense of an obligation to try to be."

The court in Roe purported to find the constitutional right to abortion in the 14th Amendment, which says that no state can "deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law."

This passage has no obvious or even subtle connection to legalized abortion (in fact, abortion laws were being tightened in the 19th century when the amendment passed). No matter. According to Blackmun, abortion is so central to liberty that no restriction on it can stand constitutional scrutiny.

He is at pains to deny that unborn children are "persons in the whole sense." As evidence, he points to clauses in the Constitution about persons that don't have "pre-natal application," e.g., the requirement that persons must be 35 or older to run for president. This is too stupid for words. Just because clauses like this refer to adults doesn't mean that minors, or unborn children, don't have rights.

The best case that can be made for Roe is that it is a mistaken decision on the books for nearly 50 years now, so it has to be honored as a precedent. But the court is not, and shouldn't be, in the practice of standing by fundamentally flawed decisions. Brown v. Board of Education overturned Plessy v. Ferguson, which upheld segregated education, almost 60 years later. Just last week, the Court overturned a labor decision from 1977.

Roe is bad law and bad democracy. It has no sound constitutional basis and deserves to go the way of the court's other embarrassments and misfires.

Unfortunate decision

The recent Supreme Court decision to uphold the last revision of the president's immigration ban on certain countries is an unfortunate decision. Aside from North Korea and Venezuela, all of the banned nations have Muslim majority populations. Yet, five majority Muslim countries were not included in the ban. The Court should have looked at that and asked why.

One of the countries not included in the ban is Saudi Arabia. The president sees them as an opponent to Iran, but Saudi Arabia is the nation that gave the world Osama Bin Laden and the 9/11 hijackers. Fifteen of the 19 were citizens of Saudi Arabia, two from the United Arab Emirates and one each from Egypt and Lebanon.

A second country not included is Indonesia, which is home to the greatest number of believers in the Islamic faith compared to any other nation.

What do these two countries have in common?

They both are home to Trump branded properties. In Indonesia, the president has investors for a Trump-branded and Trump-company managed hotel and 18-hole golf course in West Java near Jakarta and for another similar project in Bali.

Trump has tried to do the same in Saudi Arabia but has not yet succeeded with that. In 1991, Saudi Prince Alwaleed bin Talal purchased Trump's yacht, Trump Princess. Trump was forced to sell because he was about $900,000,000 in debt. The same guy also in 1995 bought a New York City hotel for $325,000,000. The "Art of the Deal" author, now our president, had purchased that property for $390,000,000 in 1988. (This is our savvy businessman president?)

Three other countries are noticeably missing from that list: Egypt, Turkey and the United Arab Emirates. They all do business with Trump for the express purpose of profiting him. None of them were included in the immigration ban.

Is this how the United States should make foreign policy decisions?

Contrast

We are all celebrating the rescue of the 12 soccer players and their coach from the deep, dark cave in Thailand by the brave Thai Navy Seals who carried out the complicated and dangerous rescue plan.

How did the boys survive with enough physical and psychological strength to make the frightening journey out of the cave? They had two huge advantages. First, the team was with their coach, someone they trusted and who knew each of them well. Secondly, the boys had each other. I imagine that they cuddled together for warmth and held each other as they tried not to cry or shiver in panic.

So, we're thankful for the rescue team, the coach and the team itself, for not giving up when the odds of success were so low.

Contrast this miracle with the case of the children separated from their parents at our southern border.

After a dangerous journey seeking asylum in the United States, and after being taken from their parents, at least 2,000 children had no one to hold them as they sat in cage-like enclosures; no one, no team, to say, "I'm with you." Many were flown in dark of night to cities deep into our country only to be lost by those who promised to reunite them with their parents.

July 10 was the deadline for the "separated" to be united with family, but many will remain "lost" children. For them, the wait will continue. Alone.

Double solution

So the NRA and its Republican puppets, such as our own Cathy McMorris

Rodgers, think the best way of counteracting terrorism, including school shootings, is improving mental health conditions rather than limiting gun availability.

Then I can't think of any better way of breeding terrorists who want to strike back at the U.S. than inflicting huge trauma on children by forcible separation from their parents.

With Lisa Brown, we'll get action for both: improved mental health conditions and limited availability of military-style assault weapons.

Offended

I am offended by your nasty political cartoons and comments about our President of the United States, Donald J. Trump. You and the Lewiston Tribune and Spokesman Review, and so many other liberal newspapers are spreading biased and untrue comments about our president and to comment on Obama's legacy???

What legacy? If you are speaking of his socialist agenda, more than doubling the national debt, anti-Christian and pro-Muslim attitude then I can understand. But the forced legislation of Obama-care, illegal immigration and a Pulitzer Peace Prize for his pro-Muslim and anti-Israel stance then I can understand. There is absolute proof that both he and Hillary colluded with Russia and that the FBI tried every way possible to prevent Mr. Trump from becoming president, but you do not print any of that.

Please look at this interview between Trey Goody (R-So.Car) and the Inspector General for the Department of Justice which proves absolute corruption of the FBI and bias toward Mr. Trump. If you want to continue to have subscribers like me, then stop printing false news and ideas.

Get it Right

I read a recent syndicated column blaming Trump for the shooting in the newsroom in Annapolis. Whoa! That is a stretch. The President has certainly been critical of the national press, but his opinion surely didn't incite the gunman. Everything I know about the tragedy indicates that the deranged shooter had a personal beef with the paper. There isn't any evidence that the gunman was even aware of presidential tweets. To criticize Donald Trump for this catastrophe is unreasonable and is not based on facts. He didn't influence anyone to randomly shoot reporters.

There is nothing wrong with being critical. I have been critical of the political bias of the national networks. I think it is wrong, both right and left, to deliberately try to influence public opinion in the guise of news. News should be factual, and the public should be left to determine their own position based on unbiased reporting. I have also been openly critical of our President. He goes out of his way to create chaos and thrives in an ambiguous environment. I don't like that. I think the most powerful man on earth should have a calming influence. He seems to enjoy being a bully. His first reaction when dealing with other world leaders is to attack. That is not the image I want presented for my country. He relishes spontaneity. One man rule is efficient but seldom finds the best course of action. Most decisions involving our national interests need the input and consideration of a staff of experts. Trump's style of speaking before thinking makes me uneasy. I didn't vote for him and probably won't vote for him if he runs again. But, I think we need to be fair in our criticism.

It isn't even necessary to get the basic facts correct in order to slam the President. We are so divided that a large and very vocal group chooses "no-Trump" and will disapprove of anything he does or says about any issue any time any where. The Democratic lawmakers won't even smile when he embraces one of their positions. If Trump supports something they automatically disapprove. There are "no-Trump" journalists who are so caught up in the frenzy they forget to check their facts. A recent national columnist claimed the President should have accepted the European Union's offer of a tariff free market. When I checked, it was President Trump who made the tariff free offer and the European leaders who rejected it. Get it right.

There is a general assumption that Trump is looking for another conservative justice on the Supreme Court in order to overturn Roe vs. Wade. I'm not sure that's a valid assumption and, therefore, unfair. During Judge Gorsuch's confirmation hearings in 2016, he repeatedly stated that his personal views on abortion were immaterial. He accepted Roe vs. Wade as the law of the land and vowed to uphold the law. I believe any nominee will share the same opinion. We have been living with guaranteed abortion rights for forty-five years now, and society still functions. But what if the decision were overturned? That wouldn't be President Trump's fault, nor would it be the end of the world. It was bad law in the first place. It may or may not be bad policy, but it is bad law. The decision stretched the Constitution close to the breaking point. The Constitution does not even come close to mentioning abortion, and all things not mentioned in the Constitution are left to the states. Thus, if the ruling were overturned, abortion would revert to the prerogative of the states where it should be. I am sure that our state government would legalize abortion almost immediately. Life would go on.

I sincerely hope our President decides four years of turmoil is enough. If he decides otherwise and stands for reelection, I will side with the opposition. I will be fair and open, however, in my criticism.

Julie Pittmann attends DAR national convention

Julie Pittmann, center, concluded her two-year term as state regent and as a national board officer with National President Ann Dillon's presentation of the honorary state regent sash and pin during the final session.

Gazette Correspondent

Julie Pittmann, Washington regent for the Daughters of the American Revolution, joined more than DAR 3,500 members last week in the nation's capital for the 127th Continental Congress, the service organization's annual meeting.

The week-long convention consisted of business sessions, committee meetings and social functions and was topped off with formal evening ceremonies at which national award winners are honored.

At the ceremony honoring our nation's military personnel and veterans, they welcomed Rear Admiral Joseph M. Vojvodich, Deputy for Mission Support for the U.S. Coast Guard, as keynote speaker. Pittmann presented a certificate and service coin by the Department of Defense Vietnam Commemorative Project to Vice Chair Mike Rhodes and his associate, for her work honoring U.S. veterans, including Vietnam and Korea.

Another highlight included dedication of Pittmann's state regent project to place benches at DAR headquarters to honor "Women Who Serve." A similar bench will be dedicated in Rosalia this November.

The national DAR was founded in 1890 to promote historic preservation, education and patriotism. Its members are descended from the patriots who won American independence during the Revolutionary War. With more than 185,000 members in approximately 3,000 chapters worldwide, DAR is one of the world's largest and most active service organizations.

The Endicott Fourth of July Celebration was a big success. The Endicott Trap Club held their Four-Gun Shoot, the swimming pool was busy, the dunk tank had a lot of participants, the food and pie booths were very busy all evening and the bouncy house had a lot of takers.

Doug Carlson played the National Anthem on trumpet just before the fireworks. The fireworks were spectacular and lit up the sky for 20 minutes. Endicott Parks and Rec, the Community Club and Food Center did an excellent job. The crowd was large and the uproar of appreciation was heard all over town.

Meet Cheryl Clinton

Cheryl was born in Olympia and grew up in Moses Lake. She graduated from Moses Lake with the class of 1990. Cheryl attended EWU where she met her husband, Mark. Mark grew up in Colfax, but his family relocated to Clarkston when he was in high school. Mark graduated from Clarkston with the class of 1990. He began his college education at Lewis and Clark and later transferred to EWU, where he graduated with a degree in business. They have been married for 23 years, now reside in Colfax and are the proud parents of three children, Michael, Kendall and Kailee.

Cheryl has enjoyed working at the Bakery at Rosauers for the last eight years and Mark has worked as Treasurer of Whitman County the last four years. Before working for the county, Mark previously worked for the City of Colfax as treasurer. The Clintons can often be found volunteering their time in the community when they are away from their day jobs. Their family is involved in several local youth sports, including volleyball, basketball, softball and swim team. They feel that living in Colfax has given their family the opportunity to not only participate in sports, but also serve the community in many capacities.

When their oldest son, Michael, was just five years old, they discovered he had a heart condition which required surgery. It was a frightening experience, but they found so much support in the community. They are happy to report that Michael is doing well and is healthy many years later, but the lessons and gratitude have remained.

Cheryl added that if she would give one word of advice to those who are new in the community or wanting to make a difference, she encourages everyone to "get involved and be invested in the community you live in. There are a variety of ways to be involved and make a difference in our small community. There are no strangers here, everyone knows everyone. This gives ample opportunity to get involved and make an impact."

The Clintons live by these words and can often be found participating in Rotary, Scouting and the Historical Society, as well as serving in many other capacities.

What's the Difference Between Alzheimer's and Dementia?

DEAR SAVVY SENIOR,
What's the difference between Alzheimer's disease and dementia? My aunt has dementia, but they don't know if she has Alzheimer's disease, which is very confusing to me.

Trying To Understand

DEAR TRYING,
Many people use the words "Alzheimer's disease" and "dementia" interchangeably, but they are not the same thing. In fact, you can have a form of dementia that is completely unrelated to Alzheimer's disease. Here's what you should know.

DEMENTIA VERSUS ALZHEIMER'S

Dementia is a general term for a set of symptoms that includes memory loss, impaired communication skills, a decline in reasoning and changes in behavior. It most commonly strikes elderly people and used to be referred to as senility.

Alzheimer's disease is a specific illness that is the most common cause of dementia. Though many diseases can cause dementia, Alzheimer's – which affects 5.7 million Americans today – accounts for 60 percent to 80 percent of dementia cases, which is why you often hear the terms used interchangeably.

But there are many other conditions that can cause symptoms of dementia like vascular dementia, which is the second most common cause, accounting for about 10 percent of dementia cases. Vascular dementia is caused by a stroke or poor blood flow to the brain.

Other degenerative disorders that can cause dementia include Lewy body dementia, Parkinson's disease, Frontotemporal dementia, Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease, Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy (CTE), Huntington's disease and Korsakoff Syndrome. Some patients may also have more than one form of dementia known as mixed dementia.

Dementia is caused by damage to brain cells, but the symptoms can vary depending on the cause. In the case of Alzheimer's disease, protein fragments or plaques that accumulate in the space between nerve cells and twisted tangles of another protein that build up inside cells cause the damage.

In Alzheimer's disease, dementia gets progressively worse to the point where patients cannot carry out daily activities and cannot speak, respond to their environment, swallow or walk. Although some treatments may temporarily ease symptoms, the downward progression of disease continues and it is not curable.

But some forms of dementia are reversible, which is why it's important to be evaluated by a physician early on. Vitamin deficiencies, thyroid problems, brain tumors, depression, excessive alcohol use, medication side effects and certain infectious diseases can cause reversible forms of dementia.

Another treatable form of dementia is a condition known as normal pressure hydrocephalus, which is caused by a buildup of cerebrospinal fluid in the brain that can be relieved by surgically implanting a shunt to drain off excess fluid. This type of dementia is often preceded or accompanied by difficulty walking and incontinence.

To learn more about the different types of dementia, including the symptoms, risks, causes and treatments visit the Alzheimer's Association at ALZ.org/dementia.

Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit SavvySenior.org. Jim Miller is a contributor to the NBC Today show and author of "The Savvy Senior" book.

Colfax school board will consider project schematics, annual budget

BY GARTH MEYER
Gazette Reporter

Colfax School board will consider design schematics July 30 for upcoming construction at the high school and Jennings Elementary as the planning process continues after the $18.9 million bond passed in February.

The board, which was set to meet July 23, moved the meeting back a week to allow more time for District Business Manager Reece Jenkin and Superintendent Jerry Pugh to prepare the 2018-19 district budget. It requires board approval to be sent to the state by the end of the month.

On the construction planning, school staff gave input on schematics – drawings that determine where each item will be in the new layout, such as science classrooms and counselors' offices – on June 22, followed by more feedback at a public meeting June 26.

Ned Warnick, district architect from Design West in Pullman, will present the revised layouts to the board.

If the board approves, design development will proceed in more detail, including breaking down construction costs.

Pugh said he expects some classrooms to change locations.

As part of the planning process, he meets every two weeks with a construction committee made up of Pugh, district consultant Dax Logson and Dan Gordon, construction project manager.

"We're on schedule with the planning phase. Things are progressing fine," said Pugh.

Colfax Superintendent Jerry Pugh was named the 2017-18 NE 2B league Administrator of the Year. He was presented with a plaque by Colfax Athletic Director Nathan Holbrook on the last day of school.

Betty was born on October 24, 1934, in Colfax, Wash. to Richard and Loey (Walker) Bartleson. Sometime in her first year, her family moved near Kellogg, Idaho, where her father began working in a silver mine. Just before Betty started second grade, her family moved to Western Washington. She graduated from Federal Way High School in 1953. That same summer, on June 12th, she married Virgil Jordan. (They had gotten to know each other in the summers of 1951 and 1952 when Betty stayed at her Uncle Ralph Walker's farm where Virgil was working.) They made their home in the Winona area.

Betty had four daughters and was a "stay-at-home" mom for the most part. Connie Lynn Perkins Gleghorn
May 11, 1962-
June 28, 2018

Memorial services for Connie Lynn Perkins Gleghorn will be held on Saturday, July 21, 2 p.m. at the Garfield Community Church, Garfield, Wash.

Connie made her final trip home to be with her Savior on June 28 after a courageous three year battle with ALS. Connie was born May 11, 1962, to Norman and Darlene Perkins of Garfield. She grew up in Garfield graduating in the class of 1980. She was active in 4H, cheerleading, band, her church and worked summers for farmer's wives and JE Love company. After high school graduation, she attended the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Wash., graduating in the class of 1984. At a dance for freshman the week before school started she met the love of her life, Joel. She and Joel were married in May 1985. Although told by doctors she could not have children, they were blessed with three; Joel (JT) in 1993, Emma Rose in 1995, and Joshua in 1999. Connie was always so grateful that circumstances allowed her to be a "stay at home mom" until the children were in school. She became a secretary at the children's school, Heritage Christian Academy. She felt it was a calling more than a job and loved serving both children and staff.

Through the last year of her life the children and staff ministered to her through letters and pictures. When the family was no longer able to care for her needs she moved into Saint Ann nursing home in Seattle and then to Bailey-Boushay House in Seattle for the last two months. The nurses and support staff all wanted to be in Connie's room because that's where the people and the "party" was. Connie always thought of others and would say "it's not about me."

Connie is survived by her husband in Bothell, Wash.; her children Joel (JT) of Newburgh, Ore., Emma of Kissimmee, Fla., and Joshua at TCU in Fort Worth, Texas; her parents in Garfield, Wash.; her sister Pam of Darien, Conn.; her brother Roger (Angela), and nephews Cade and Grayson of Maple Valley, Wash., and in-laws Joel (Rebecca) Gleghorn and Jeannie (Bob) Steber of Chula Vista, Calif.

Memorials can be given in Connie's name to the ALS Association, Washington State or Heritage Christian Academy, 195271 104th Ave. N., East, Bothell, WA 98011.

There will be a second service in remembrance of Connie's life in Bothell, Wash., July 28, 10:30 a.m. at Crosspoint Church.

GOOD OLD DAYS

125 years ago The Commoner June 30, 1893

The trial of Fred Kempf on a charge of assault in Justice Dillon's court Tuesday afternoon revealed quite a little shadow of Steptoe Butte. Kempf is a farmer whose land adjoins that of "Cashup" Davis and Andros Omreezsky, who is an importation from Hungary and an employe of Steptoe's monarch. This man with the unpronounceable name appears to be of a meddlesome character. On Friday night last, the Hungarian was engaged in driving Davis' cattle home, when, upon passing the Kempf place, the latter's dog sprang out and chased the cows down the road. He believed Kempf's son had set the dog on the cows with malicious intent aforethought, and he said as much to Mr. Kempf, when the latter came from his door to learn of the Hungarian's rage. Omreezsky hurled some broken English epithets into Kempf's teeth and accused that individual of stealing milk from "Cashup's" prolific Jerseys. Kempf is not a whit bigger or stronger than the Hungarian, but he waded into his oratorical opponent in the good old fashioned rough-and-tumble way. He battered Omreezsky till the latter admitted he had more than enough. On the following day, "Cashup's" cattle driver was carried to Colfax hospital, where his wounds were bound up. A warrant was next sworn out for Kempf's arrest on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Justice Dillon found Kempf guilty of assault and fined him $10 and costs, a total of $26.

The barn was full of milk cows at the time it went down the first time, the afternoon of the tornado. The cows were released from the barn with difficulty but none of them were seriously injured. A force of carpenters was employed to erect a new barn and this building was about half complete when it was again wrecked by heavy winds Saturday night.

Steptoe and Colfax volunteers doused a blaze that destroyed the C.B. Kennedy barn in the Manning district Saturday evening. Kennedy was visiting at Brewster when the fire started.

Willard Morgan, Kennedy's neighbor, spotted the smoke and called the alarm. Morgan had been storing chopped hay in the barn the previous day and estimated 20 tons were destroyed by the blaze. The fire apparently started in the north end of the barn, possibly from an electrical failure.

* It was American astronomer, astrophysicist and author Carl Sagan who made the following sage observation: "The fact that some geniuses were laughed at does not imply that all who are laughed at are geniuses. They laughed at Columbus, they laughed at Fulton, they laughed at the Wright brothers. But they also laughed at Bozo the Clown."

* It's not clear why lawmakers in the state of Alabama once thought it necessary to pass a law forbidding the operation of a vehicle while wearing a blindfold.

* Though coffee has been around for about 700 years, instant coffee wasn't invented until 1906. By George Washington. Of course not that George Washington. The man who made coffee more convenient — and less palatable — was from Belgium.

* There seems to be quite a rivalry between the towns of Rosehill, North Carolina, and Wilmington, Delaware. Both locales claim to be the home of the world's largest frying pan, with a diameter of 10 feet. This begs some questions, of course: How many eggs are being fried at once to require such a large piece of cookware? And what sort of stove is required to heat such a mammoth pan?

* If you're like the average American, you'll eat about 35,000 cookies in your lifetime.

* Those who study such things say that 70 percent of southern Nevada's water use goes through the sprinklers for golf courses and lawns in Las Vegas.

* It's not surprising that the word "fondue" comes from the French verb "fondre," which means "to melt."

* Do you know anyone who is xanthodontous? If so, you might want to refer them to someone specializing in cosmetic dentistry. "Xanthodontous" means "having yellow teeth."

The proposed Project Action would not involve any wetlands.

Name of Applicant/Responsible Entity [RE]: Town of Rosalia
Project Title: Town of Rosalia Wastewater Collection System Rehabilitation and Water System Improvements and Associated Planning Document Updates (2017 - 2018).
Location of the Project: The entire proposed project is located within Sections 10, 11, 14, and 15, Township 20 North, Range 43 East, Rosalia, Whitman County, Washington. The Town of Rosalia has considered the following alternatives and mitigation measures to be taken to minimize adverse impacts and to restore and preserve natural and beneficial values:
The purpose of the proposed Project Action is to improve and rehabilitate the existing sewer and water systems located in the Town of Rosalia, and adjacent pipeline corridors. The primary reason for locating the project in the 100-year floodplain is because this is where the existing pipelines are located. Alternatives Considered and Reasons for Non-Selection: The Town of Rosalia has considered the following alternatives:
1. Locating the project within the 100-year floodplain to address sewer and water issues in the existing pipelines
2. Locate in the 100-year floodplain with a Letter of Map Amendment (LOMA) - Site not eligible
Date Published: July 12, 2018
3. Locate in the 100-year floodplain with a Letter of Map Revision (LOMR) - Site not eligible
4. Locating outside of the 100-year floodplain/Modifying pipeline routes to avoid to the 100-year floodplain - Rejected
5. No Action - Rejected
The rejected alternatives were not selected because of one or more of the following reasons, the alternatives: 1) do not fulfill site selection criteria, 2) do not achieve the full objective of the proposed Project Action, 3) they may result in increased environmental impacts, 4) they are economically infeasible, and 5) the site is not eligible.
Mitigation Measures to be Taken to Minimize Adverse Impacts and to Restore and Preserve Natural and Beneficial Values: Given the small area of excavation (less than 1 acre), the type of construction activities (excavation and rehabilitation of an existing line) and the location of the construction (within an existing roadway), temporary impacts to the floodplain (if any) would be negligible.
Water quality maintenance values of the floodplain would be protected during the ground disturbing activities by retaining and treating any construction related stormwater runoff onsite, through appropriate best management practices. Cultural and historic values of the floodplain would be protected by implementing an Inadvertent Discovery Plan (and Monitoring Plan, as applicable) during construction in the 100-year floodplain. Post-construction contours would be returned to pre-construction contours; no net fill would result from the proposed Project Action. As a result, no permanent floodplain impacts are expected from the proposed Project Action.
Alternative Reevaluation: The Town of Rosalia has reevaluated the alternatives to working in the floodplain and has determined that it has no practicable alternative. Environmental files that document compliance with steps 3 through 6 of Executive Order 11988, are available for public inspection, review and copying upon request at the times and location detailed in the last paragraph of this floodplain notice for receipt of comments. Purpose of the Notice: There are three primary purposes for this notice. First, people who may be affected by activities in floodplain and those who have an interest in the protection of the natural environment should be given an opportunity to express their concerns and provide information about these areas. Second, an adequate public notice program can be an important public educational tool. The dissemination of information and request for public comment about floodplains can facilitate and enhance Federal efforts to reduce the risks and impacts associated with the occupancy and modification of these special areas. Third, as a matter of fairness, when the Federal government determines it will participate in actions taking place in floodplains, it must inform those who may be put at greater or continued risk. Written comments must be received by the Town of Rosalia at the following address on or before July 20, 2018:
Town of Rosalia
Attn: Leland F. Root, Mayor
110 W. Fifth Street

County Fourth of July, part II

A compact John Deere rolls up the homestretch in Albion.

The Community Band of the Palouse plays from a trailer at the start of the Albion parade. At right, Albion 4H volunteers work the grill for their fundraiser.

A perch in the parade at Albion.

Fireworks maestro Tony Anderson and son Ryan set up the show in Endicott at the schoolgrounds.

Anna Siebert of Hay and cousin Aspen Beckerdt, Endicott, flash a smile in the Endicott kiddie parade.

Emilia Meyer, 13 and sister Elizabeth, 10, of Moscow, get set before the Johnson parade.

John McInturff, left, of Wenatchee, and his son, John McInturff, of Pullman, ride on a quad recumbent bike in the Albion parade while John the younger plays melody banjo.

Rigs roll out just after the parade start in Albion for the loop route around town.
